Dear Sir Albert

At last I send the [illegible] & hope you will not be disappointed with it. The Errata are more than they ought to be. I think it is a pity that Marshall did not put it into cloth boards.

The 1592 bis of [illegible] will go on in the Genealogist so you may look forward to a second book before very long

Believe me
Dear Sir Albert
Yours very truly
Walter C. Metcalfe

PREFACE.

The County of Lincoln was visited in 1562-4 by Cooke, Chester, acting as deputy to Harvey, Clarenceux; in 1592 by Lee, Richmond, acting as deputy to Cooke, Clarenceux; in 1634 by Chitting, Chester, and Thompson, deputies to St. George, Clarenceux and Burroughs, Norroy; in 1666 by Byshe, Clarenceux; and again by St. George, Clarenceux, in 1681, if we may credit the assertions of Mark Noble and the Collectanea Curiosa.[1]

Of the first of these Visitations there are copies in the College of Arms, MS. D. 8., apparently the original, but imperfect, and in E. D. N. 10; also, at the British Museum, Harl. MSS. 1190, 1550, 1484; at Caius College, Cambridge, MS. 545; at Queen's College, Oxford, MS. xcii.

Of the second, the original is at the College of Arms, MS. H. 11, and a copy G. 4; there are other copies in the British Museum, Harl. MS. 1550, and Add. MSS. 16,940, 26,742. Copies of the two last Visitations are in the College of Arms, that of 1634 in MS. C. 23, and that of 1666 in MS. D. 23.

The copy at Queen's College, Oxford, has been taken as the text of this volume, and has been corrected and augmented by such additions as I have been able to make from other copies of it.

WALTER C. METCALFE.
